大問4A Helpful employee

メールを読み、次ページのQ23-Q25に答えなさい。

From: Joyce Dixon <joyce_dixon@goodmail.com>
To: Customer Service <cusserv@tennmart.com>
Date: October 5
Subject: Helpful employee

Dear Customer Service, I'm writing to you about one of your employees at the downtown store. My grandmother has been going to your store for over twenty years. She always has nice things to say about your staff. The other day, she had left her glasses at home and was having trouble getting around the store and reading things. Your employee Mark Brown was a big help.

Mark noticed she was having trouble and asked her if he could help. He helped her pick out her groceries. He even helped her find cheaper options. When she was finished, he took her cart to the cash register and helped her pay. When he found out that she was taking the bus by herself, he drove her home and carried the groceries into her apartment. He then made her promise to take her glasses with her next time.

Our family has enjoyed shopping at your store for a long time. However, because of Mark's help, now we are even bigger fans of your store. I'm happy to know that there are people like Mark helping my grandmother. Please let him know that my family and I really want to say thank you for what he did for her. Best regards, Joyce Dixon

大問4B 長文

本文を読み、次ページのQ26-Q29に答えなさい。

Magazines in the Digital Age

The invention of the Internet caused many changes in society. Some changes were positive, such as being able to access news and information quickly. However, the Internet also brought some negative changes. The magazine publishing industry especially suffered from these changes. Many people stopped buying magazines when they realized they could read the same information online. Since 2012, the number of magazine companies in the United States has dropped by over 30 percent, and many magazines are no longer published at all.

To survive, many magazine companies have stopped printing their magazines and publish online instead. Readers pay to access the magazine through their smartphones or computers. This is more convenient for readers because they no longer have to buy magazines from stores. It is also cheaper for the magazine company because there is no need for printing. Sales of online magazines are still high because people trust magazines more than blogs or social media.

Another way for print magazines to survive is by improving quality. A good example is the UK music magazine NME. This magazine stopped being printed in 2018 because sales were too low. However, in 2023, a new version was published again with a higher price, better content, and more pages. The magazine was printed in small numbers and published only every two months. The new style of the magazine is popular with music fans because the magazine is considered special and rare. NME has become a valuable item for people who collect magazines.

The content of a magazine also affects its popularity. Magazines about fashion or famous people did not survive because that information can be found easily on social media. Print magazines that are still successful are those that are written by experts and offer the readers something that cannot be found easily online. These are mainly magazines about business, news, and other global issues.

大問4B 長文設問 Q26-Q29

前ページの本文を読み、最も適切なものを1つ選びなさい。

(26) The arrival of the Internet caused

1 the number of magazine companies in the United States to decrease.
2 a rise in the number of people interested in writing for magazines.
3 people to read different kinds of magazines than before.
4 positive changes to the magazine industry in the United States.

(27) What is one reason why people read magazines online?

1 They prefer to read magazines on a device for free.
2 They want to help the magazine company's work.
3 They think the online version provides more articles and information.
4 They believe the information is more likely to be true than other sources.

(28) One reason the new NME magazine has become popular is that

1 the company made it cheaper to buy.
2 the new version is smaller and easier to read.
3 there are only limited numbers available.
4 it is published more often than before.

(29) What kinds of magazines are still popular today?

1 Magazines written by specialists about serious topics.
2 Magazines discussing the entertainment world.
3 Magazines containing similar information to websites.
4 Magazines that make good use of social media.
